

Frequently Asked Questions

What does a school counselor do?

My job is to support the social, emotional, and academic development of all students. Many times the counselor will talk to students about their feelings, school, friends & family.

How can my child be referred to the school counselor?

Teachers, administrators, and parents can refer any student. Students may also request to speak with the counselor on his/her own!

Is what I share with the counselor confidential?

Yes, meetings in the counseling office are confidential unless a student is in danger or their safety is at risk.

Does the counselor discipline students for code of conduct violations?

No, all discipline is handled by an administrator and/or teacher.
